Low-cost, high-tech Internet link-up could be here by Christmas

By MICHAEL DANIELS

Need to find an obscure recipe?
Leave a quick message for a friend in California?

Fix an arcane computer problem?
Check the closing stock market quotes, the latest research on the effects of dioxin, or even the hottest gossip on the ski-racing circuit?

For SAD44 area residents with computers in their homes, gathering information from around the world
-- and sending their own contributions back out into the global community -- may soon be as simple as making a local phone call followed by a few mouse clicks.

If all goes well, by the end of this year local homes, businesses and schools could all have their own net, a computer network linking more than 30 million users around the world.

And the cost for area residents to log onto the Internet could be less than the price of a postage stamp.

"The stars are right -- this is a very doable thing," Bethel selectman Harry "Dutch" Dresser, Ph.D., told his fellow selectmen recently.

Dresser, the associate headmaster of Gould Academy, knows what the job requires. He recently oversaw the installation of an Internet access ramp at Gould, and he is rapidly becoming a nationally sought-after consultant on such installations.

Gould officials believe the local academy is the first prep school in the country to have its own Internet access ramp, as well as the networking infrastructure to deliver that access to classrooms and all dorm rooms.

And now Dresser has set out to make the Bethel area the first community in the state to enjoy a similar level of Internet access.

Information is power

Information has become a global commodity, and ready access to the Internet has become essential for students, businesses and individuals who expect to function and compete successfully in the Information Age.

But that access can be difficult -- and expensive -- to come by. Supporters of the so-called Information Superhighway (of which the Internet is considered a precursor) acknowledge that a stubborn "haves-and-have-nots" problem is emerging.

The problem is especially acute in rural areas, which once again face the prospect of being passed by economically because of their physical isolation.

"It is critically important to the future welfare and development of our country that schools, governments, health agencies, libraries and citizens of small, rural towns not be left out as various institutions orga-

A WORLD OF INFORMATION
Up-to-the-minute weather maps are only a tiny part of information available on the Internet. The practical and imaginative uses for the network are limited only by the mind of the user. In recent weeks, "Dutch" Dresser has used the Internet to get suggestions for the syllabus of a philosophy course, to help his wife find an obscure recipe, to post E-mail messages, to download free computer programs, and to solve a tricky problem with Novell networking software. After posting the Novell problem on UseNet one evening, Dresser found a half-dozen answers waiting for him the following morning. "The most useful," he said, "was from India."

Gould Commencement

Seniors graduate Saturday

Following a week of final exams and senior activities, Gould Academy will host its 158th Commencement on Saturday, May 28, at 10:30 a.m. in Bingham Auditorium.

Friday evening's Baccalaureate service at 4 p.m. at the West Parish Congregational Church will include musical selections from F.J. Haydn and choral selections from Cat Stevens.

The academy will host a buffet dinner for parents, guests and seniors after the Baccalaureate, followed at 8 p.m. by "An Evening with Richard Rodgers," a musical presentation by the Gould Academy Chorus, Jazz Band, and Girls Ensemble.

The show will feature a collage of Rodgers' music from his earliest collaborations with Lorenz Hoyt to his Broadway hits with Oscar Hammerstein II. An all-student dance begins at 9:30 p.m.

CPS receives national Drug Free School Award

First Maine school so honored

By WENDY HANSCOM

Crescent Park School officials will travel to Washington, D.C. next month to accept a Drug Free School Recognition Award from the U.S. Department of Education.

CPS is the first school in Maine to receive this award, according to CPS principal David Murphy. President Clinton will be present for the award ceremony in the White House rose garden. CPS is one of 90 schools nationwide which will receive the award.

Two representatives of the U.S.D.E. visited CPS in February. The site visit was one of 150 nationally and the only such visit in Maine. Two principals, both former drug free award winners, performed the site visit to confirm information provided in the nomination process. The pair met with Murphy, and interviewed students, parents, teachers, administrators, support staff and others.

"It took a lot of work and a lot of emphasis on this topic," Murphy said. "It's an award that goes to the entire community for their support and to the teachers here who keep it up as a priority. For a small school especially, it's an award the whole community should be proud of."

Murphy, and teachers Heidi Steele and Brenda Wight will go to Washington, D.C. for award ceremonies on June 2 and 3.

SAD44 budget vote tonight

By WENDY HANSCOM

The district-wide vote on the proposed SAD44 budget is scheduled for tonight, Wednesday, at 7 p.m. in the Telstar High School auditorium.

The School Board has approved a FY '95 budget of $7,018,933, which is up about 12 percent from last year's budget of $6,247,230.

If the budget passes as presented, all SAD44-member towns will see an increase in their local school tax assessment as follows:

Town	FY 94	FY 95	% Increase
Andover	$457,153	$525,725	14.99
Bethel	1,129,216	1,257,140	11.32
Greenwood	480,728	543,356	13.03
Newry	894,490	1,014,832	13.45
Woodstock	455,103	514,372	13.02

More high-level fire training urged

By MICHAEL DANIELS

The Bethel Fire Department needs to raise its training level to new heights if it is to successfully battle fires in the six-story hotel proposed for Bethel Station.

The modern technology used in the construction should greatly reduce the likelihood of a serious fire. Developer Heinie Merrill told a special meeting of the town Planning Board last week that buildings, including the hotel, in Bethel Station, would all be "state of the art, fire protected structures."

But the possibility of a life-threatening fire still exists, and Planning Board member Francis Dumont, noting that smoke rather than flames was the greatest threat in a fire, asked Bethel Fire Chief Jim Young what additional resources his department would need to ensure the safety of hotel guests.

"Training more than anything," Young replied. "You can have all the equipment in the world, but if you don't train to use it, it won't do you any good."

The Bethel Fire Department has already done some high level training on neighboring Newry's ladder truck.

"As far as Bethel people training with our ladder truck, that's an ongoing thing," said Newry Fire Chief "Tink" Conkwright.

But everyone at last week's meeting seemed to agree that more specialized training was now in order. Don Vautour, a retired fire captain from Weston, Mass. who has fought fires in the city of Boston, cautioned that fighting a multi-story fire was a very different proposition than battling the types of structure fires commonly encountered in the Bethel area.

"There's a vast difference between fighting a fire in a two-story building, a three-story building and a five-story building."

Smoke, he agreed, posed the greatest danger. "You get one unit on fire and the smoke can fill that corridor, and probably go from the second to the third to the fourth floor, causing a panic situation. You've got to be trained in how to handle it. ... You're not dealing with five or six people, you're dealing with many rooms, many people, and some of them panicked."

But while most who spoke at last week's meeting agreed on the need for more training, they also realized that it could be hard to arrange for volunteer departments, where the firefighters often had full-time day jobs.

Vautour suggested that if the state has a fire-training building, principals of local departments could take high level training, then pass it along to their volunteers.

The Planning Board will take up the matter again at its regular meeting tonight. In the meantime, town planning assistant Nancy Schleifer has been exploring the possibility of arranging the additional training.

More new businesses

Also on the agenda for tonight's meeting are reviews of the proposed DeMarco professional building on lower Main Street; the J&R Country Store; Spruce Tree Shops, a combined retail-professional conversion of the Lynn Mason residence on lower Main Street; and a pre-application hearing on a proposal to install additional seating at Bethel Pizza.

THERE WAS NO $300,000 CUT

To the Editor:

After much consideration, I have decided to respond to a letter to the editor in last week's Bethel Citizen. In Pat Dooen's letter she states that "The school board was not unanimous in approving this budget. Initially some $300,000 was cut -- this was then reinstated." At no time did the School Board cut and then reinstate that amount of money. The board, as is its duty, looked at all aspects of the budget requests and after long deliberation passed the budget that is to be presented to the citizens on May 25, 1994 for final approval.

Cuts at this time and of the magnitude suggested in Ms. Dooen's letter would be devastating to the SAD44 school system. The result would be the loss of programs and personnel (perhaps as many as 12 or 14 positions along with our high school accreditation). This at a time when the economy of the area is beginning to turn around. Without good schools, the economy of an area can not thrive.

I urge you all to come out and invest in your student's future, in the futures of this area's youth, and ultimately in the economy of the Telstar Region.

COME TO THE FORUM

To the Editor:

The stage is set for Bethel's 1994 "Selectperson Candidates' Forum" to be held June 1 in the Telstar High School Auditorium from 7 to 9 p.m. All four candidates are planning to attend the televised (Channel 4) event.

Recently a committee met to establish a format for the forum and to outline general areas from which questions will be asked. Four panelists consisting of Bill Cousins, Linda Varrell, Mike Daniels and Jeri Brooks-Greenwell will ask each of the four candidates questions derived from the following areas:

- Development of Bethel Station and its impact on the area.
- Need for economic development of the Bethel area.
- Future expansion and/or use of the Airport Industrial Park.
- Use of federal, state or private grants to support development.
- Strategies for job development and need for expansion.
- Waste disposal problems and need for expansion.
- Consequences of the state's refusal to curtail spending and the impact on local tax rates.

- Quality of local education and the need to create local job opportunities to keep kids here.

- What each candidate expects to contribute if elected as selectperson. Each candidate will be given approximately two minutes to answer the questions, with follow-up questions allowed by the panelists. State Rep. Al Barth will moderate the forum, insuring timely responses with cards to submit additional questions, which will be reviewed to avoid duplication and insure appropriateness to the format.

Anyone interested in submitting questions for consideration is encouraged to contact any of those involved as panelists, the Bethel Area Chamber of Commerce at 824-2282 or our office at Creative Management Associates at 824-4044. Arrangements have also been made for questions to be submitted via Prehs, the IGA, Bethel Savings Bank, Brooks Brother's Hardware, or the Red Top Truck Stop.

I truly hope Bethel voters will take advantage of this unique opportunity to learn more about our candidates by either attending or watching the forum prior to the June 14 election.

CONSIDER WOODBURY

To the Editor:

I was delighted to read Burt deFrees' letter in The Citizen of May 11. It was great to have him take issue with Joe Brennan's $5,000 breakfast. Burt's reference to Richard Barringer as a fine alternative to the dismissed Brennan was right to the point.

I have another candidate for the voters to consider, Bob Woodbury. Bob, too, is "bright, articulate, genuinely concerned for Maine and its citizens."

Bob has already proven his ability to lead. His service to all of us includes chancellor of the University of Maine System; president, University of Southern Maine; chair, Maine Public Broadcasting. I could go on. He has spent 25 years in public life.

It is a very crowded field on both sides of the political spectrum. Bob has had the opportunity to view the complexity of our state government firsthand. His leadership of Maine's largest, statewide public institution is a clear example of his ability to get things done. The only candidate with that sort of positive experience, by the way.

MAY FAIR THANKS

To the Editor:

The CPS May Fair was a success. A big "thank you" goes out to all the families who attended, the volunteers and teachers. I was in charge of the petting zoo and pony rides, which were both a success.

This success is due to all who helped me: the End-of-the-Rainbow 4-H Club (Bethel 4-H); Lisa Smith for her trailing the ponies and general help; Jeanne Boelsma, Rick Salters, Cassie Mason, Nancy Murphy for leading the ponies, and of course, Pumpkin and Silver, who gave rides to about 120 children.

TELSTAR 1989 MISSING GRADS

To the Editor:

The Telstar class of 1989 is planning its upcoming fifth reunion for this July. We are currently unable to locate the following people: Dean Benson, Randy Coulombe, Kristi (Goodwin) Haines, Crawford Perry, Jr., Larry Snowman, Joanne Wells, Shane York.

If anyone knows how to contact these people, we would appreciate hearing from you. Please call 824-7615, or write to Sandy Johnson at: 23 Mason Street, Apt. 21, Bethel, ME 04217.

GROVER HILL FIRE--Smoking in bed has been blamed for the fire Sunday morning that destroyed the Grover Hill home of Keith Davis. Bethel firefighters were called out to the blaze at about 3 a.m. It took Bethel, Newry and Greenwood firemen about an hour to bring the blaze under control. Just a shell of the two-story, seven room house remains. Only a few of Davis' clothes were recovered from the ruins. Davis' dog died following the fire due to complications of smoke inhalation. His pet cat was also burned badly, but is still alive.

Internet

nizations and governmental agencies in the United States move into the age of electronic communication through connection to the developing National Information Infrastructure," Dresser said.

But Gould's rural location is no longer a problem. The academy has moved into the fast land of the Information Superhighway and the benefits are many.

Faculty and students can gather information almost instantaneously from around the world, keep up with the breaking news on virtually any topic, and communicate globally with individuals and organizations interested in more than 3,000 separate topics.

"The free information and expertise out there is absolutely astounding," Dresser said.

(But for Gould students this instantaneous world-wide communication can be a double-edged sword. A number of their parents subscribe to E-mail services, Dresser said, so when a student is sloughing off, the academy's faculty can easily contact a parent -- who can fire off a quick E-mail flame telling the youngster to get to work.)

The Internet ramp is also expected to enhance the academy's position in the increasingly competitive world of prep-school marketing.

Spreading the net

But all this does little for the rest of the community -- something that clearly concerns Dresser.

"Unfortunately," he said, "the academy doesn't have the facilities to provide access to the public school system, the public library, the health center, or to the citizens of Bethel."

But Dresser has now set out to change that. He is working to establish a Bethel Digitalization Committee, and with the help of the Maine Municipal Association and the University of Maine Computer and Data Processing Services Department, he is moving aggressively to spread the Internet access more broadly.

"He estimates that it would cost roughly $50,000 to install direct or dial-up access in Bethel and part of the surrounding area.

"The exact geographic range hasn't been discussed," he said, "but there is good reason to consider SAD44 a reasonably sized area."

Dresser proposes distributing a direct fiber-optic Internet link to the new computers at the Crescent Park School, as well to Telstar, the Bethel Library and the Bethel Health Center.

And homes and businesses in the area, he said, would be able to pay a small membership fee and access the Internet either through United Vision Cablevision or by dialing up a local telephone gateway.

In addition to the $50,000 estimated cost of installing the hardware, the system would cost $7,000 to $8,000 to operate, according to initial projections.

Dresser is currently exploring a number of private sources for funding, and he is optimistic that a financing package can be put together -- without asking local towns to tap their municipal budgets.

"An unusual array of circumstances seem to be aligned in a way which will give Bethel opportunities so far only available in large, affluent neighborhoods surrounding major metropolises," he said.

Token fee, no meter, no UNIX

The Internet, of course, is already here. But with the exception of the ITV office at Telstar (which has a link though the University of Maine in Farmington), Internet availability is generally limited to those who are willing to pay to reach it through a commercial on-line service such as America Online, Delphi or Compuserve.

This can be a costly proposition, involving monthly subscription costs (generally in the range of $10 to $30), plus per-minute charges after a specified amount of connection time.

And since few services can be reached by 800 numbers, the heavy user's telephone bill alone can rapidly become prohibitive.

The costs for using commercial Internet access services also increase as the user moves beyond the most basic Internet services. But Dresser's plan for the Bethel area would require only that local users pay a modest membership fee. For that fee, and the cost of a local phone call, they would have full access to all Internet services -- with no meters running.

And for technophobes, recently developed GUI (graphic user interface) software eliminates the need for mastering the forbidding UNIX operating system, or even DOS. The new software (unavailable as recently as a year ago) makes mousework of navigating the globe via the Internet.

CPS seeks technology grant

The Crescent Park School is applying for a $75,000 Technology in Motion Grant to help enhance the computer and other technology systems planned for the expanded school.

The grant is part of a state Department of Education program. Two schools in Franklin, Somerset, Androscoggin or Oxford counties will receive the grants.

The grant money would help the CPS purchase computers, software, fax machines, satellite learning contracts, and provide staff development.

CPS principal David Murphy said he's actively exploring ways to make at least some of the new technology planned for CPS available to the public and small businesses in the SAD44 area.

Summer road work coming

By WENDY HANSCOM

Several road crews will be tearing into Route 26 this summer in Greenwood, Bethel, Newry and Hanover.

Two stretches of Route 26 between Bethel and Hanover are scheduled for repaving this summer.

According to Maine Department of Transportation officials, the state determined that if the two sections were repaved this summer, it might save a more costly rebuilding of the road base.

The first project begins about 2.6 miles south of the Newry/Bethel town line and extends north for 2.4 miles into Hanover.

The existing pavement will be dug up, pulverized and put back onto the roadbed to form the base for a new layer of pavement.

The state has been recycling crushed pavement for about five years, according to MDOT public affairs director John Stanley.

"We just grind it up and put it right back down and that way we don't need to haul in new gravel," Stanley said. "It also saves on disposing of the old pavement."

Other improvements planned include repaving and repaving existing roadside shoulders and making drainage improvements and replacing guardrails as needed.

The bridge over the Bear River just south of the Route 2/26 intersection in Newry will also get some repairs, and bridge railings on the bridges over Sunday River and Stony Brook will be updated.

The second Bethel project begins about one-tenth of a mile north of the intersection of Routes 2 and 5 in Bethel and heads north for three miles.

The existing roadway will be repaved and guard rails and drainage improvements will be made where necessary.

Work on the two projects is scheduled for this summer, but the MDOT has not determined the exact starting date. MDOT specifications called for completion of work on both projects by early August.

More work in Greenwood/Bethel

The Route 26 roadbed from about the East Bethel Road/Route 26 intersection in Greenwood to P.H. Chadbourne & Co. in Bethel is scheduled for replacement this fall.

In November, construction crews will dig up the road base, replace guard rails and repave the road, according to MDOT officials.

MDOT also plans on rebuilding Route 26 through the Locke Mills village, but design delays have pushed that project back until at least the spring of 1997, according to Walter Hendrickson Jr., assistant highway design engineer.

Tips from the

Bethel Conservation Commission

Used motor oil and antifreeze -- don't put them down the drain or on the ground.

Several Bethel garages take used motor oil from individuals for use in waste oil burners. Ask your garage or service station. If they do not take used oil themselves, they can refer you to someone who does. The used oil should be free of water and antifreeze. Bring it to the garage during regular business hours and speak to a garage employee. Plan to take your empty containers away with you afterward.

One Bethel garage (Autotech) currently takes used antifreeze for reclaiming. Take it in during business hours and speak to a garage employee.

THIS WEEK AT THE

Moses Mason House

All members and friends of the Bethel Historical Society are reminded that the next meeting will be held on Thursday, June 2, in the meeting room of the Dr. Moses Mason House, beginning at 7:30 p.m.

Featured during the program portion of the meeting will be a presentation by Geraldine Howe on the history of the Brick Grammar School, which opened in 1894, 100 years ago this year. The school housed generations of Bethel students until Crescent Park School opened in 1951. This Romanesque style building stood vacant for several years until acquired by William Bingham II. It was demolished in the mid-1950s and today the land bordering Elm Street is part of the Gould Academy campus. Anyone interested in attending this meeting is cordially invited to do so. Those with photos, artifacts and/or memories to share are urged to attend as well.

The 15th Annual Faye Taylor Memorial Art Show will be held on Saturday, May 28, 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. Students in grades one to six in SAD44 have been invited to compete with entries relating to the theme "Railroading in the Good Old Days." Anyone with questions is urged to call the society office at 824-2908.

On Sunday, May 29, the annual birthday party for Dr. Mason will be held from 2-4 p.m. As this is the 20th anniversary of the opening of the Dr. Moses Mason House to the public, there will be a special program featuring a retrospective of the year since 1974. Those with memories are urged to come and share with those attending. Those unable to attend are urged to write them to be read on Sunday afternoon.

Ox. Cty. spared auto emissions testing

AUGUSTA--When Maine's new automotive emissions testing program goes into effect next month, Oxford County residents will not be required to check their car's exhaust emission. Maine is only required to test cars in areas with a population of more than 100,000. The state is mandated to reduce admissions by 15 percent, and in order to do that vehicles in Androscoggin, Cumberland, Kennebec, Knox, Lincoln, Sagadahoc and York will be tested.

Mercury found in freshwater fish

AUGUSTA--State officials are warning pregnant women, nursing mothers, women who may become pregnant and children under 8 not to eat fish from Maine lakes and ponds. The Human Services Department's Bureau of Health and the Department of Environmental Protection cautioned that the fish have widespread mercury contamination. The agencies recommend no more than six fish meals a year for people eating large fish, which usually contain higher levels of mercury. People eating smaller fish should eat no more than 22 fish meals a year, officials said. The mercury level findings were compiled from a sampling of about 150 of Maine's 5,800 lakes and ponds. A few of the fish sampled were contaminated with two or three times more mercury than the Food and Drug Administration's one-part-per-million limit. Mercury in high levels can cause developmental defects in children and human fetuses, and possibly nerve and kidney damage. Swimming and boating pose no health threat, officials said.

Mooselookmeguntic road approved

PARIS--Oxford County commissioners voted last week to go ahead with taking ownership by eminent domain of a private road leading to Mooselookmeguntic Lake. The commissioners voted to take the steps necessary to claim the road and will consult with legal counsel to review the proper procedures. The four-mile stretch of dirt road would provide access to Maine Public Reserve Lands on the south shore of the lake, where the state plans to build a boat landing and small park. The county would take over the stretch of road from the end of South Arm Road to the state land in Richardsontown Township. The road is owned by the heirs of the Pingree family and is managed by Seven Islands Lands Co. in Rangeley.

NOVA leases new office/class space

RUMFORD--The Northern Oxford Vocational Area Cooperative Board last week approved a three-year $101,000 lease for three Waldo Street properties. NOVA's central office and pre-vocational programs, which are now at the SAD43 administration building, will move to Waldo Street. The building trades program, now housed in a former maintenance building on the old Stephens High School property, will also move to the new NOVA location. The lease is $3.50 a square foot, the same NOVA pays at its present site.

There are three buildings on Waldo Street, adjacent to the Hosmer Field skating rink. They include an apartment with a three-car garage and 100-foot work space. The apartment will be used for a central kitchen area and its two bedrooms as classrooms. Car refinishing and restoration will be done in the three-bay garage. The building trades will go in a steel framed building with storage, classrooms, offices, machine area, rest room and storage areas.

Measles close Hebron sports

HEBRON--A case of measles prompted Hebron Academy to cancel its final week of sports events, but the school's 150 students will continue classes. There were also three cases of measles recently reported in Rockland.

Dump closing in May

ANDOVER--The town dump will close by the end of May. There will be a public meeting on June 7 at the Andover Town Hall, 7 p.m., to discuss new regulations and restrictions on dumping. Once the dump is closed, recycling will be mandatory. The town approved mandatory recycling at its 1992 Town Meeting.

Sugarloaf closes out longest season

CARRABASSETT VALLEY--Sugarloaf/USA has ended its 178-day 1994 season. This year is the resort's longest ski season to date, surpassing last year's record 177 days. The Sugarloaf Golf Club opens May 20. As of Tuesday, Sunday River was still open, with officials hoping to offer skiing through at least June 1.

SAD17 withdrawal vote split

OTISFIELD/WATERFORD--In a straw vote last week, the towns of Otisfield and Waterford split on whether to begin the withdrawal process from SAD17. By a vote of 19 to 2 Waterford approved looking into withdrawal, but Otisfield turned the proposal down, 3-25. A committee formed to research withdrawal from SAD17 by Otisfield, Waterford and Harrison is planning to circulate a petition calling for a formal vote on beginning the withdrawal process.

South Arm couple wins $50,000

ANDOVER--Tom and Nancy McNamara of South Arm bought a Maine Cash Five lottery Easy Pick ticket last week at Mills Market in Andover. It was a $50,000 winner. The McNamaras said they will use the windfall to build a new home or add on to their present home. The McNamaras moved to Andover in 1990 from Foxboro, Mass.

Forster unions voted out

WILTON--Employees at Forster's plant in Wilton voted out their union last week, echoing a vote earlier this month at the company's plant in Strong. Forster announced last week that its Wilton employees' voted 111 to 53 to decertify Local 405 of the United Paperworkers International Union as their bargaining agent. A similar vote earlier this month in Strong was 57 to 30 to decertify the union. The votes make Forster union-free. Workers at the company's plant in East Wilton have never been represented by a union.

10 tons of extra yard work

CARRABASSETT VALLEY--For the third time in less than five years, a Carrabassett Valley couple had their yard filled with a truckload of wood products. In the past five years, three tractor-trailer trucks have failed to make a sharp corner on Route 27 and have dumped their loads on Almo and Kay Nickerson's lawn. Thursday, a truck skidded down the Nickerson's driveway, rolled over, sliding 70 feet, coming to rest in a ditch. Ten of the 25 tons of chips in the truck landed on the Nickerson's lawn. The truck driver was uninjured, but the truck sustained $25,000 worth of damage.

Intermodal Commission meeting

CAMBRIDGE, MASS.--The national Commission on Intermodal Transportation is holding meetings this week in Cambridge, Mass. The meetings, at the Massachusetts Institute of Technology, are focusing on the intermodal transportation needs of the New England region. Rail and freight train service will be part of the discussion. This is one of the first opportunities for freight and passenger interests, metropolitan planning organizations, transportation companies and government agencies to jointly discuss issues relating to all types of transportation.

Rumford offers Boise valuation drop

RUMFORD--The Rumford Board of Assessors voted 3-0 Monday to offer Boise Cascade Corp. a $22.8 million equipment depreciation proposal. Boise has asked the board for an $800,000 personal property tax reduction from the current $8.69 million tax bill for equipment and machinery at its Rumford mill. The mills pays about 80 percent of the town's taxes and its equipment and machinery is assessed at $452.4 million. Boise has asked for a tax reduction based on "economic obsolescence" of equipment no longer profitable to operate.

Memorial Day events

Memorial Day will be celebrated on Monday, May 30. The following local events are planned to mark the holiday.

NEWRY

On Sunday, May 29 at noon a ceremony will be held at the Newry Municipal Building. Newry Community Church Pastor Rodney Hanscom will offer the invocation and prayers.

Retired Army Lt. Col. Donald Bennett of Newry will be the guest speaker.

Members of the Jackson-Silver American Legion Post in Locke Mills, the Mundt-Allen American Legion Post in Bethel and the Veterans of Foreign Wars' Post in Bethel will form a color guard and firing squad to salute the war dead and veterans. Taps will be played and flowers placed on the town memorial.

Selectman Steve Wight will dedicate a flag for the town's memorial monument. Coffee and refreshments will be served in the Municipal Building prior to the event.

Events in the remaining local towns will all be held on Monday.

GREENWOOD

At 8:45 a.m. a parade will form at the Jackson-Silver Post on the Gore Road, and will step off at 9 a.m.

The parade will feature Boy and Girl scouts, the Leavitt High School marching band, the Bryant Pond Daughters of Union Veterans of the Civil War, Tri-Town Rescue, legionnaires, fire trucks and more.

The parade will march to the Greenwood Memorial. State Rep. Rick Bennett will be guest speaker. The commander of the Sons of the American Legion will read the Gettysburg Address. Chaplain Rodney Hanscom will offer a prayer. The post Auxiliary will place flowers at the memorial and on the water. There will also be a firing squad salute to veterans.

The parade will then begin again and travel to Mt. Abram Cemetery. At the cemetery, Pastor Hanscom will offer a veteran's prayer, a veteran's grave will be decorated, taps played, and the Jackson-Silver Post firing squad will salute war dead and veterans.

Paraders will then march back to the Legion hall for refreshments.

EAST BETHEL

At about 10:45 a.m. the Jackson-Silver Post will hold a brief memorial ceremony at the East Bethel Cemetery.

BETHEL

At 10:30 a.m. a parade will assemble at the Civil War memorial on lower Main Street. The parade will begin at 11 a.m. and feature the Leavitt High School marching band, scouts, color guards, Legionnaires, VFW members and more.

The parade ends at the Bethel common. The memorial program will include an invocation, musical selections, Miss Poppy, guest speaker Vietnam War veteran Brian Strickland, a salute to war dead, the Star Spangled Banner and benediction by Earlon Paine.

WEST PARIS

At 10:45 a.m. the parade will assemble on Maple Street. It will step off at 11 a.m. and feature the West Paris Fire Department, Tri-Town Rescue ambulances, Bob Bahre's antique cars, the West Paris Grange, Maine State Police, Greenwood Fire Department, Ring-McKeen Auxiliary members, Woodstock Adventist Church group, Boy, Girl, Cub and Brownie scouts, 4-H'ers, town softball and baseball teams, school children and anyone else who wished to march.

The parade will travel down Main Street, pause to salute the large flag hung across the street and sing the National Anthem, and then travel to the bridge over the Little Androscoggin.

At the bridge, memorial wreaths will be thrown into the water to salute those who served and died at sea.

The parade will then turn and march to the West Paris Community Cemetery. There, the Rev. Lloyd Waterhouse will offer a prayer and give the Memorial Day address. Bertha Benoit will read "Flanders Fields." Music will be by the Paris School Band. A gun salute and taps will be sounded.

Marchers will then return to the West Paris Memorial Monument on Main Street for a prayer by the Rev. Douglas Pearson. Bertha Benoit will make a presentation to Emery and Cleo Rye-son.

After the parade, refreshments will be served at the West Paris Grange to band members and young marchers. The parade is sponsored by the West Paris Grange 298.

In case of rain, the entire event will be held at the West Paris Grange Hall.

WOODSTOCK

At 1 p.m. a memorial ceremony will be held at the honor roll near the Grange Hall. The program will feature music by the Leavitt High School marching band and the reading of General Logan's address and the Gettysburg Address. Local Boy Scouts will raise the flag, and school children will place flags and flowers on the town honor roll.

The parade will leave from the Grange Hall at 1:30 p.m. and travel to the Lakeside Cemetery, where a veterans' memorial prayer will be offered and taps played, and back.

The parade will feature the Leavitt band, Bryant Pond Daughters of Union Veterans of the Civil War, scouts, school children and more. Anyone interested in marching is welcome to line up for the parade.

ANDOVER

At 1:30 p.m. a parade will assemble at the Andover Elementary School. The parade will start at 2 p.m. Marchers will go down Pine Street to Church Street and then up Main Street to the Common, which will be decorated with 144 flags honoring veterans and war dead.

The parade will feature the Andover Fire Department and its color guard, school children and other groups.

A brief memorial service will be held on the common.

Marauding bear killed

By WENDY HANSCOM

A West Paris hunter last week tracked down and killed a bear suspected of killing two sheep in Albany--but not before the bear took another lamb in Albany.

Hunter Tim Farrar said that after a week on the trail, his dogs treed the bear that most likely killed two sheep at John and Joan Kimball's home.

But before he was shot, the bear nabbed another sheep from John Meister of Albany, Farrar said.

"We assume this is the bear," Farrar said. "He took a sheep from a pen 30 feet in front of (Meister's) door. He broke the pen in half, and dragged the sheep right off. We followed the drag marks and eventually the dogs jumped him."

The 180-pound bear was shot near Chalk Pond in North Waterford. Meister used his draft horse to drag the bear out of the woods. Meister said he suspects this is the same bear that also killed one of his lambs last spring.

Farrar said he was asked by game wardens to dispatch the bear, but that cases like this one are rare.

"Almost 99 percent of the time we're asked to chase a bear off and convince him there's somewhere else he can eat," Farrar said. "Most of the time it's bears around bee hives or garbage. Last year, we did kill one that took two pigs on the Northwest Bethel Road."

Newry

Road review waiver sought

By WENDY HANSCOM

Sunday River Ski Resort has asked the Newry Planning Board to reopen the resort's application for a secondary access road and to formally waive a site plan review of the Monkey Brook extension road into Jordan Bowl.

When the town's roads task force was formed in March, Sunday River tabled its application for the secondary access road until the task force completed its study.

The task force voted recently to recommend approval of the road, which would run northeast from the resort's parking lot five for about a mile, and then intersect with the Sunday River Road between the Skiway and Monkey Brook roads.

It's also possible that the road could be extended into the resort's new development in the Jordan Bowl area. Ski area officials are currently negotiating with Susan Hamill of Virginia to obtain a right of way across her land and into Riley Township. Hamill is considering the request but has not reached a final decision, according to town officials.

The resort is also considering at least two other ways to access the Jordan Bowl area.

The ski area already has Department of Environmental Protection to extend the Monkey Brook Road into Jordan Bowl, and the town has granted shoreland zoning approval for the extension.

The board, however, did not do a formal site plan review, and last week, resort engineer Joseph Aloisio asked the board for a formal waiver for the review.

Board Chairman Donald Sandstrom said the board probably should have done the site plan review. Board member Brian Hanscom said he thought the board had discussed whether or not to require a site plan review at the time the shoreland zoning permit was granted. Sandstrom said he will try to find, and listen to, tapes of that meeting and determine if the discussion qualifies as a de facto waiver.

The board will discuss the waiver request and the secondary access road proposal at its next meeting, June 1, 7 p.m., at the Municipal Building.

From the Bethel Police log:

Trouble with juveniles;
Intervale Road burglary

Police responded to three juvenile complaints last week. Friday evening, police received a report of a large group of juveniles causing a disturbance off the Rabbit Road on P.H. Chadbourne & Co. property. Four juveniles were located and all seemed to have been drinking, according to the police report. All four were taken to the police station and then released to their parents.

Earlier Friday evening, a Main street resident reported four juveniles causing a disturbance on Elm Street. The group was warned that they would be summoned or arrested for disturbing the peace, if police received repeated complaints.

Thursday, a Bethel town employee reported seeing four juveniles in the Bethel village and asked police to see if they were truant from school. Police interviewed the four Bryant Pond youths and determined they had been involved in a minor accident in Gilead in a car which was earlier reported stolen. No charges have been filed, according to police. The case is still under investigation.

In other police news last week, on May 17, an Intervale Road man reported that his apartment had been broken into. Skis, bindings, three bottles of wine, a tape player and other small items totalling $555 were missing.

On May 13, police responded to a single-car accident on Route 2 in West Bethel. Todd Conant, 28, of Bethel left the road and hit a stretch of guard rails. Conant was arrested, charged with operating a motor vehicle under the influence of an intoxicant, and transported to Oxford County Jail.

On May 16, Vehicles driven by Gordon Pike, 41, of South Paris and James Bibbo III, 47, of Bradford, N.H. collided on Railroad Street. Damage to Pike's 1979 Chevy, $900; to Bibbo's 1990 Dodge, $300.

Gould Academy underclass awards

Local students were honored recently at Gould Academy's annual Underclass Awards ceremony.

Academic book prizes for academic excellence were awarded to freshmen: Kate Graham for English, and Amos Hausman-Rogers for mathematics; sophomores: Bonnie Crocker for English, Annelise Bass for English, history, mathematics and music. Junior Kendra Hutchinson was presented book prizes in Spanish III and mathematics and was also the recipient of the Rensselaer Award which recognizes outstanding accomplishments in science and mathematics. Junior Nancy Morgan received the book prize for history and the Bausch and Lomb Science Award in recognition of outstanding academic achievement and superior intellectual promise in the field of science.

Nathan Wight was selected as one of 18 student proctors who will comprise the leadership program for the 1994-95 academic year. His responsibilities will include assisting and leading the new student orientation camping trips in the fall, initiating student activities, and supporting the faculty.

Annelise Bass, Bonnie Crocker, Nancy Morgan and Darby Hickey were elected to the National Honor Society for maintaining minimum scholarship averages of 85 and were also considered for service, leadership and character by vote of the faculty.

Graham is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Graham, Crocker is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Stuart Crocker, Hutchinson is the daughter of Ms. Sue Hutchinson and Mr. Tom Hutchinson, and Bass is the daughter of the Reverends Brendon and Jean Bass, Wight is the son of Mr. and Mrs. John Wight, all of Bethel. Morgan is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Maynard Morgan of West Bethel, Hickey is the son of Ms. Marie Hickey of Bryant Pond, and Hausman-Rogers is the son of Mr. Paul Hausman of Albany and Ms. Lucy Rogers of Stoneham.

EARN HIS WINGS--Shinzo Honda (right), a senior at Gould Academy, received his private pilot license Sunday afternoon. He began his training in Chicago last summer and finished his FAA requirements last week in Bethel at the Col. Dyke Airport. His flight test was administered in Rangeley by Flight Examiner Steven Bean. He plans on working towards his commercial license while in college in the fall. The fledgling pilot is shown here with Dan Bilodeau of Bethel Air Service, who helped him with his preparation. (Photo by Kirk Siegel)

MYERS WINS SCHOLARSHIP

Telstar High School senior Cherilyn Myers of Bethel was chosen as a 1994 recipient in the Service Merchandise Scholarship Program.

Each year Service Merchandise awards 100 $500 scholarships to outstanding students.

Myers plans to study business at Eckerd College in St. Petersburg, Fla.

HANNON GRADUATES FROM UNIV. OF NEW ENGLAND

Mary-Beth Hannon, daughter of Dan and Sally Hannon of Gilead, graduated from the University of New England College of Arts and Sciences on Sunday, May 7.

She received a bachelor of science degree. While a student at UNE, Hannon played on the varsity softball team for four years and was its captain in 1994.

DEEGAN EARNS DEGREE

Jody Deegan, RNC, received a master of science degree in nursing at the May 14 graduation ceremonies of the University of Southern Maine in Portland.

Jody is the wife of Ed Deegan of Locke Mills, and the daughter of Gilbert and Juanita Haines of West Bethel.

She is currently employed by Androscoggin Home Health Services as a nursing supervisor in Lewiston.

GRENACH EARNS PH.D.

David G. Grenache received his doctoral degree in Biomedical Sciences from Worcester Polytechnic Institute, Worcester, Mass., on May 21. He was also the recipient of the prestigious James F. Danielli Award for outstanding accomplishment in research.

Grenache has accepted a position as professor at Fitchburg State College, Fitchburg, Mass.

He and his wife, Stephanie, daughter of Nelson and Betty Smith of Gilead, reside in Rutland, Mass.

BARNES COMPLETES NAVY JOBS TRAINING IN TENN.

Navy Seaman Apprentice David M. Barnes, son of Dan and Terri Barnes of Gilead, recently completed the JOBS-Oriented Basic Skills Electricity and Electronics Strand IV Course.

During the course at the Naval Air Technical Training Center in Millington, Tenn., Barnes received training in mathematics and electrical and electronic terminology. The course gives students a basic knowledge of electronics. Barnes is a Telstar High School graduate and joined the Navy in August, 1993.

ANDERSON COMPLETES MARINE RECRUIT TRAINING

Marine Pfc. Jason L. Anderson, son of Robert E. Anderson of Upton recently completed recruit training.

During his training cycle at Marine Corps Recruit Depot, Parris Island, S.C., Anderson and his fellow recruits were taught the basics of battlefield survival, introduced to typical military daily routine and personal and professional standards.

Anderson is a 1993 graduate of Tantaqua Regional High School of Sturbridge, Mass.

BOOKS • N • THINGS "Between The Lines"

Dear Friends, Along with many of our customers, we're fascinated with things Native American. It all started about four years ago when the movie "Dances With Wolves" hit the big screen. Suddenly there were dozens of new books on American Indian culture. Now there are literally hundreds of books on the topic for all ages, and you'll find many of them currently displayed on our front wall at Books-N-Things.

There are works of fiction and non-fiction, often told by authentic Native American voices. Some are beautifully illustrated coffee table books. Some are soft cover children's picture books. You'll find books on Maine's own tribes, including the Micmacs. Many deal with spirituality and being attuned to nature.

If you're a Native American culture buff, we invite you to look over our fine selection of books on native peoples. We welcome your comments too.

MAY FAIR RAISES MONEY FOR PLAYGROUND EQUIPMENT--
Saturday's Crescent Park May Fair attracted hundreds of visitors, who bought auction items, played games, and ate lots of festival food. The event raised about $4,000 toward playground equipment for the newly expanded school. The CPS/PTA raised another $1,000 for its projects. Kindergartener Brady Chapman (above) gets a face full of pastry in the pie eating contest. Fifth-grader Angus Graham (left) does a little cross dressing at CPS teacher Leonard Hoy's fundraiser. Hoy's fourth-graders gave fair goers the opportunity to look their worst at the "dork shots" booth. A king and queen nerd will be selected at a later date.

HIGH JUMPING REBEL--With a jump of 6 feet, 2 inches, Todd Wing placed second in the high jump last week at Telstar High School's meet with Mt. Valley and Madison. The boys' team finished second overall, and the Telstar girls finished third.

Baseball

Telstar 12, Winthrop 0
The Telstar High School baseball team shutout Winthrop with a 12-0 win Friday.
The outstanding performance of the game was turned in by Tim Remington, who in his third start of the season on the mound blew Rambler hitters away, striking out 14. The game went only five innings due to the 12-run rule.
Winthrop bats only touched the ball four times, with one hit and three grounders.
"Tim looked great today," Coach Bob Remington (his father) said. "He showed that he's starting to come around after the ankle injury. He got stronger as the game went on, evidenced by striking out the last 10 hitters he faced."

Offensively, the Rebels touched-up Rambler pitchers for 15 hits and a .571 team batting average. Every Rebel hitter collected at least one hit and Remington, Sean Gilson, Adam Newell and Peter Miserochchi each had two.

Telstar 9, Jay 6
It took nine innings Thursday and a three run rally in the top of the ninth for Telstar to beat Jay 9-6.
In the ninth, Telstar's Peter Miserochchi led off with a walk. Kevin Rosenberg pinch ran and moved to second on an infield ground out. After reaching third on a wild pitch, he was knocked home on a base hit to right field by Clint Myers. After a popup for the second out, Adam Newell singled and Chris Howe hit a long single to drive in Myers and Newell for two insurance runs.
Sean Gilson pitched eight innings allowing only two earned runs.

"Sean did everything it takes to win," said Coach Bob Remington. "he had good control of all three of his pitches and seemed to get better as the game went on."

Gould Academy wrap-up
Gould Academy ended a winning baseball season last week.
Senior Josh Otten's 3-2 pitching record and 1.84 ERA helped lead Gould to a 5-2 record.

Eric Harlow led all hitters, with a .563 average, including three doubles, two home runs and 11 RBIs. Otten batted .529.

Harlow received the team's Sportsmanship Award and freshman Ian Paquette was elected most improved player. Jason Fraser was elected captain for the 1995 team. The George Bowhay Award was given to Otten for his all-around contributions to Gould baseball.

George Bowhay coached Gould Academy to many winning seasons from the 40s through the 70s.

ANDOVER STUDENTS RAISE MONEY FOR CHILDREN'S HOSPITAL--
Students at Andover Elementary School participated in a bike-a-thon May 14 to benefit the St. Jude's Children's Hospital. Thirty students rode for three hours. Franklin Grange met on Monday, May 16, with 21 children, 11 adult non-members, and 24 members present. It was children's night with the program starting at 6:30. Program: opening song by all; opening thought by Anna Swan; Bertha Benoit sang two songs, one just for the children -- "The Old Lady Who Swallowed a Fly"; a poem by Pam Moody; the kindergarten class presented "The Three Billy Goat Gruffs" -- very good job; song, "Take Me Out to the Ball Game"; Fern Hickey read her essay on "Being a Good Sport"; Lindsey Moody read her essay on "My Hero, My Grandmother"; and Juston Merchant read his, "My Hero" (he's in kindergarten) -- these children were all winners in an essay contest, and other winners present were: Ashley, Alisha and Allison Miclon; song by all; game for all the children with prizes -- each child was given a mouse book mark made by Anna; Dot Canwell whistled a couple tunes with the children helping on one song. Refreshments were served. It was reported that the roof had been nailed down and chimneys fixed somewhat. Connie Tuttle spoke. Sick members were reported on. Remember July 19 will be the Grange Musical Supper and entertainment. Next meeting will be June 6.

The Historical Society met on Saturday, May 14, with a speaker on D.A.R.E. A very informative and interesting talk was given. Curator Larry Billings has given a book on royalty to the society. The Woodstock Historical Society Museum will open Saturdays in June, 1 to 4 p.m. The museum features antiques and local memorabilia. Everyone is welcome to visit. It costs nothing to visit but donations are accepted.

The committal services for Florence Hathaway (Mrs. Lloyd) will be held on Saturday, May 28, 1:30 p.m. at Lakeside Cemetery Annex. Mrs. Hathaway was a long-time summer resident on North Pond, who died this winter at 95 years of age. She was a sister-in-law to Harris Hathaway. Her children: Richard of Montpelier, Vt.; Carol of Needham, Mass.; Walton of Pa.; and grandchildren invite family and friends to join them at camp following the service.

The Woodstock-Greenwood Senior Citizens will meet, on June 2, for dinner at the Chick-A-Dee restaurant.

The Memorial Day program and parade, put on by the Daughters of Union Veterans, will be held on Monday, May 30, 1 p.m. at the Honor Roll by the Grange Hall. Roland Lord will be the speaker. Leavitt High School Band will play. The parade will follow the program. All are invited to attend.

The Woodstock High School Alumni Banquet will be held on Saturday, June 4, at 6 p.m., at Telstar Cafeteria. Special guests are the classes of 1924, 1934, 1944, and 1994 Telstar seniors from Woodstock and Greenwood.

Gilead

By LOUISE LORING

Brand new flags are proudly displayed throughout town this week, as this little town shows its pride in our country. Poppies are appearing in everyone's lapel, and the only thing we miss is Rose on our doorstep selling them for the Legion. All hearts are turned in remembrance for those who have laid down their lives so that we could remain, "The home of the free and the brave." Outdoors, there is the sound of lawn mowers whirring as yards are spruced up for the occasion, and bright patches of flowers appear overnight in the garden plots. Hanging baskets adorn every nook and cranny, and barbecue grills are polished, picnic tables readied. But even if the weather doesn't cooperate, patriotic citizens in Gilead join the rest of the nation in paying tribute to all those who have laid down their lives, or given a good part of their lives, or sacrificed their limbs and health for this land of spacious skies and amber fields of grain, for we are proud to be Americans today, tomorrow, and always.

Jessica and Brandon James stayed with Linda Smith and family recently for a period of six days while their parents visited relatives in Louisiana.

Bethany (Buffy) Taylor graduated from University of Southern Maine with a degree in business administration. Her twin sister, Brenda and husband Ivan flew in from Alexandria, Va., to attend the exercises. The girls are the twin daughters of Wayne Taylor. Incidentally, Linda tells me that they spotted Stephen King in the hallways, but he declined to pass out autographs. Bethany plans to leave on Wednesday, the 25th, to join Brenda and Ivan in Virginia, where better employment opportunities and cultural advantages lie.

On May 10, Linda Smith attended a baby shower for Linda Taylor, hosted by her sister Nancy Saunders at her home in West Bethel. A lot of nice gifts were received. Linda is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Taylor of town.

On May 21, a bridal shower for Amanda Smith of Albany was attended by Linda Smith and daughter Alicia. The shower was given and held at the home of Amanda's Aunt Rose Sumner of Bethel.

The affordable housing units across the street have been a beehive of activity this past week. Lumber trucks have rolled in, along with carpenters, electricians, and plumbers. They have worked diligently long into the late evening hours. The hum of heavy equipment, saws buzzing, and hammers pounding added truth to the old adage that everything is subject to change. What a lot of changes this town has seen over a period of the last 30 years. Where the trailer park now stands in the '60s stood the Leo Witter chicken ranch. In the '70s, after the farm burned, a beautiful green pasture took its place where stately steeds, and riding horses grazed peacefully, adding a special touch of beauty to the town. Where the affordable units are going, next to the park, stood the town's only church, which was razed, leaving a huge white house that once was a popular boarding place. I am told, Time waits for no man. Changes for the better or worse are always being made. Even in Gilead, in a town of this size it is called progress. True to her word, Ms. Corriveau's housing project will be open by the first of July, I do believe. Much success and good wishes are extended to this project.

Until next week, then, enjoy your holidays and your barbecues, but most of all enjoy your community. Remember the lives it cost so we could be able to do just that. Keep the faith and God Bless America.

Poppy Days were Friday and Saturday of last week but will be available until Memorial Day. Just see Vera Cross.

Jarrod Huston of Rumford spent Wednesday with your correspondent. His mother, Michelle, works in Norway on Wednesdays and Thursdays, so she dropped him off on her way to work. Our church teen group held a slave auction to earn money for camp, and I got Jarrod for a couple hours' work, so he helped me with some things that needed doing around the yard. We also visited Dottie Brown, Kim and Allan, and Crystal and Al Lake and Brent. He's a fun teen to be around and we had a good time.

Friday, Vera Cross went to Victorian Villa with Charlotte Cole and visited Lawrence Mason and attended the awards luncheon while there. They had supper with some friends of Charlotte and called on Hilda Dragoon, ending up at the dance in West Paris. Looks like they had a busy day.

Thursday, Gerry Shimamura and I went to Portland to visit Mary Mills (my sister-in-law, not Aunt Mary Mills) at the Maine Medical Center. Her legs are still quite swollen but her arms are back to normal size. She said they were trying to get her into a nursing home near here so she can get some therapy before returning to Don and Mae Mills. It would be nice to have her in Norway or West Paris where it doesn't take so long to get to visit. At least Gerry gets in and out of the cities without getting lost. It isn't only Lewiston I get lost in. It is weird. I have no problem getting in to where I want to go to, it's getting back out again. Cities are notorious for having one-way streets so you can't go out the same way you went in. For me anyway, that usually means a one- or two-hour delay where I see more of the state than I ever thought I would. John and I once traveled nearly the length of New Hampshire -- but that is another tale. Anyway, while I visited Mary, Gerry took the opportunity to go see Steve Anderson for part of the time. Nobody should have to go through what he's been through, and we wish him all the best and our prayers for a speedy recovery.

Brian and Veronica Penley and daughter have moved into a trailer in Milton.

Tuesday, Noreen Russo, Olive Risko, Zylpha Emmons, and Vera Cross attended a County Council of the American Legion at Fryburg.

Bob Curtis is out and about after his recent operation, and we hope he will continue to improve rapidly.

On Wednesday, the Ladies Circle of the Union Church welcomed their president, Eva Twitchell home from Florida and observed Mary Mills' birthday with a cake.

Andover

By KAREN MCKAY

The Andover Alumni Committee has announced their plans for the annual banquet to be held on Saturday, June 4, at the elementary school. There will be chicken cordon-bleu served for dinner followed by the "Old Grey Goose" Band playing traditional folk songs and country dance music.

Steve Hall will be the evening's guest speaker. Sharon Farrington may be contacted at 392-1603 for ticket information. Until May 28 tickets are available to Andover Alumni only. After May 28 any remaining tickets are available for purchase by friends of the alumni. Members are urged to attend, several new officers will be elected and there is an agenda of articles to vote on this year.

The First Congregational Church's new steeple will be in place this week. The dedication will be held during the 10 a.m. service on Sunday, May 29.

The Calvary Congregational Church will soon be changing to their summer hours. Starting June 5 the morning worship will begin at 9:30 a.m. and will be followed by a "Fellowship Brunch." Beginning June 1 the Wednesday Night Bible Study and Prayer Time will begin at 6:30 p.m.

Everlasting Acres has opened for the season with a large selection of annuals and perennials for the gardener. The greenhouses are open daily, contact Lana at 392-1461 for more information.

Congratulations to Melissa Bailey, a fifth-grade student at Andover Elementary. She is the first "Student of the Week." Staff members nominate students throughout the week who have done a good deed. On Friday afternoon Mr. Murphy randomly draws one name out of the lot of nominees. The chosen "Student of the Week" receives a gift certificate to Books-N-Things in Oxford. Melissa Bailey is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Donald Bailey.

The Ellis River Riders will be holding a trail ride on May 29 to benefit St. Jude Hospital in Memphis. Contact Debbie Cayer at 392-2381 for more information.

Mr. and Mrs. Harold Falkenham recently traveled to Bridgewater, Nova Scotia, Canada to visit their daughter Glenda Meisner and family. Several activities enjoyed were fishing and attending a K.P. Convention in Ellsworth.

Get well wishes to Don French, who is a patient at Stephens Memorial Hospital in Norway.

Hoping all enjoy the Memorial Day weekend.

Elderwood Manor

By FLORENCE HALL

Mr. and Mrs. William Nuppula, Owls Head were visiting in town over Mother's Day weekend.

On Sunday, they and Florence Hall went to Rumford Point to attend church services. The minister, Deborah Jenks, was at the Owls Head Church before coming to Rumford Point and Locke Mills churches.

Norman White went to Togus for back treatment.

We at the Manor are happy to know that Gertrude Hutchins will be back from the Portland hospital where she had surgery. She will be at her son's for a while.

Thought of the day: Happiness is being able to answer a "Jeopardy" question that none of the contestants knew.

East Stoneham

By ELEANOR NELSON

On May 12, the second townspeople meeting was called by Fran Hamilton, president of the East Stoneham Church, to discuss the problems of smaller churches. The Rev. Andy White was present to listen to the problems and questions and was there to give advice and suggestions. He said we are doing quite well with what resources we have. I guess we will just have to cut back on expenses, the same as everyone else, the way the economy is now. Anyway, it was a good meeting and a lot of things were discussed.

You know two little things that I save on? I mentioned this a while back. I take the mesh bags that oranges come in and snip off the metal ends and recycle the bags wadded up as a scrub pad or scour ball. They don't wear away or splinter like the "Chore Boy" or "Dolly Duzzit." It's really neat. Now another thing. This might not be town news and yet again might be news to some. Take the papers that oleo margarine squares come in and fold them and put on the inside of shelf on door in the refrigerator. They're really great to grease your biscuit tin or cookie sheet. Is that recycling, or what!

The Firemen's Booster Club supper Saturday night was well attended, the meal was good and people had a chance to visit and maybe win some money through the Booster Club.

Sunday was Children's Day and they put on an excellent program at the North Waterford Church. At this time, baby cups and Bibles were given out and the Sunday School children were recognized. Jessica Millett was soloist. The May 29th worship service will be at the East Stoneham Church with Memorial program following at the plaque Honor Roll outside.

The Daughters of Union Veterans of the Civil War will be meeting on May 25, at which time they will honor their deceased members.

Services for Marshall Rolfe will be held at the Woodlawn Cemetery, North Waterford, on May 29 at 2 p.m.

Several people from town attended the Stephens Memorial Hospital Auxiliary volunteer awards luncheon membership meeting on May 17. The lunch was prepared and served by the Finnish American Heritage Society. Awards were given out for volunteers who had served from 25 hours to 4,000 hours.

Dandelion greens are around now and, again, are they ever good!

North Newry

By GIL SEELEY

Just a reminder that applications for $50 camperships are due to the Recreation Committee by June 1. Letters saying what camp you want to go to and why may be sent to Kathy Trefethan, RR 2 Box 2006-10, Bethel, ME 04217 or given to any committee member. Newry students ages 5 to 18 are eligible. The six campership awards will be presented at Community Day on Saturday, June 5. Students 14 and older who receive an award will be asked to perform four hours of community service.

The Recreation Committee will host the Fifth Annual Community Day on Sunday, June 5, starting at noon. It will be held at the Town Office with fun and games for everyone. There will be the traditional pie-eating contest, egg toss, and softball game as well as croquet, cards, relay races and more. Hot dogs, hamburgers and drinks will be provided and everyone should bring a potluck salad or dessert. Don't forget your baseball glove. Hope to see you there.

The Newry Firemen's Ladies Auxiliary's Public Potluck Supper at the Grange Hall will be Saturday, June 4, 5:30 p.m. Bring a hot dish or desert, (rolls, coffee or punch will be provided). The mugs are priced at $5 and the hats at $4. The funds from these will help buy food, etc., for the "cache." Remember it is a public supper. Everyone invited. Come and enjoy. A 50/50 raffle will provide the excitement.

The Newry Community Church business meeting was held Monday night, May 16. A prayer by Pastor Rodney Hanscom was said and Owen Wight was named moderator. Clerk Freda Robinson took notes, and treasurer Sylvia Wight brought the finances up to date. It was voted to keep Owen Wight, Sylvia Wight, Rena Powers and Gil Seeley as trustees. Owen Wight as janitor/caretaker, and Louise Tetley as auditor. The church will have a picnic for the public on Aug. 28 (more on this later). Pastor Rodney Hanscom will take a week's vacation starting June 12, and another week sometime later. It was voted to have a Memorial Day celebration on Sunday, May 29, after the Sunday service. The ceremonies at the Town Building will start at 11 a.m. Come and share some goodies afterward.

Bowlers of the "Newry Bowling Gang" last week were Karlene Bachelder, Betsy Clark, Gil Seeley, Louise Tetley, Doris Parent, Bea Lowell and Olive Anderson. On the overall scores Betsy was high on the triples and singles. Of the "Righties" Louise was high on the triples and singles. Betsy had five spares and one strike. Karlene had three spares, Gil had one strike, Louise had two spares and two strikes, Bea had one strike, Doris had one strike and Olive had one spare.

Congratulations to our North Newry high school junior Jake Bartholomew for his endeavor as he prepares for the Explorations students' Art Exhibit at the Summit Hotel at Sunday River. Go for it, Jake! We are proud of our town artists.

The Windy Valleys Sno-Mobile Club met Thursday night, May 19, with Owen Wight presiding. Secretary Sylvia Gray read the notes of the last meeting and took the present record. Treasurer Bob Lowell brought the finances up to date. There was a discourse on trails and roads without signs, saying it was hard to know what direction to go next. Bill and Sylvia Wight reported on their M.S.A. directors' meeting at the Elks Lodge in Augusta on Tuesday, May 17. Also, it was reported that Mrs. Greenleaf wanted to know if snowmobiles would be available for rescue in winter emergencies. It was discussed that some bridges needed repairs. A report on the Newry Corner lawn sale, to be held May 21, will be given next week. The Club House is coming along fine. It was voted to have a supper get-together with members and their families at Northland on Sunday, Aug. 14, 6 p.m. Next meeting will be Tuesday, Sept. 6, 7 p.m. Coffee, etc., was enjoyed and the meeting adjourned.

The Newry Mothers Club annual trip to Storyland has been scheduled for Wednesday, June 22. The club is planning to pay all or part of the $7 entrance fee, but children attending must be signed up by June 16 by calling Brian or Wendy Hanscom at 824-3228.

West Paris

By MIRIAM INMAN

The West Paris Historical Society met on Monday evening with 24 in attendance. After the potluck supper, the business meeting was held. The nominating committee is to get officers for the next year to be elected at the July meeting. The meeting on June 20 supper committee will be Vernon and Miriam Inman and Milton Inman will provide entertainment.

On Saturday, June 4, the Historical Building will hold an open house from 3 to 5:30 p.m. This is held on the same day as the West Paris Alumni Banquet. The public is invited to see the artifacts and memorabilia in the museum. The curator is Joyce Lamb. She will be assisted by Lempi Cyr and Olga Gellatly. New memberships and renewals will be accepted. Commemorative bicentennial proof sets as well as post cards of West Paris Village will be available for purchase.

Greenwood City

By COLISTA MORGAN

Today a slow spring rain has dripped from the trees. I watched the pond and saw the way the wind swished across the water. The waves whiffed first up the pond then down the pond, then followed a calm. So different than the day I walked down the road to a place where I had picked mayflowers so many times. I found it but the flowers were not yet open. These flowers are described as "pink, small and punctual, aromatic low" but doesn't do justice to this trailing arbutus, whose waxy blossoms and delicious breath are among the earliest prophecies of the perfume-laden summer. They are under the dead brown leaves of last year; and especially among the pines and in light sandy soil. They win from many of us the gladdest recognition of the year; appearing as they do when we are so eager for some tangible assurance that -- "the spring comes slowly up this way."

I found the Wake Robins and Red Trilliums flaunting their lurid petals as if to force upon me the welcome news that the time of birds and flowers is at hand. Pretty, yes, but their odor is most unpleasant.

The wind met me in the hemlocks and pines; their musical instruments in tune. I stopped to listen. The valley sang in harmony with the sound of running water, while the rocks sat by, alive with ferns and mosses. How green they were!

I heard the brook from within the deep woods. I listened to its music. It talked sometimes like a human voice; expressing deep laughter, airy gladness and joyfulness. It could lift the heart and calm the spirit making one feel blessed even though it was just a tiny part of this wonderful world. Streams that bawl, trickle, run or leap over ledges and snarl around boulders filling the air with a deep continuous roar; I love them all.

Then just there, appeared my first spring toad; caked with mud he seemed a little arthritic as he tried to move away. Maybe it was his first trip out.

Home was just ahead now and what a nice thing to see the pond again in blue instead dressed so long a time in white.

On Sunday, I heard news of several friends who were ill, some of whom once lived here.

Mr. and Mrs. Milton Inman had their nephew visiting them over the weekend.

On Sunday, there were just Ann and I. Dave had gone to a car show and Sally and Mary were with her parents.

Kathy Curtis visited me recently, also Evelyn Heikkinen and a friend from Mexico (Maine).

The Holts have had several visitors from relatives and friends this week.

So. Woodstock

By ANDREA WING

I ventured out to the new Shop 'n Save in Oxford this week. I was a little hesitant, as I always enjoyed the one in South Paris, and I'm a person of habit. I found it a lot larger than I thought, but found everything I needed plus a lot I didn't need.

I read in the paper the Telstar Middle School honor roll for this session. They have five sections for grading instead of the four previously used. From South Woodstock: Neil Thurlow, Jeff Chandler, Jeremy Curley, Brandy Poland, Heidi Kanes, Emily Phillips; and Lacy Phillips. Hope I didn't miss anyone; some names I don't always recognize. Congratulations to you all!

The Benson family reunion is finally here. Will be glad to see everyone. Even though some live not far away I rarely get to visit with them.

Margie Gleason brought me some plants this week. I've got them all planted and hope I can make them look even half as good as Margie does. She has a beautiful flower garden, plus a vegetable garden. Margie is a neighbor on the road where we live; I think it was very thoughtful for her to think of me.

There are many birthdays being celebrated this time of year. My daughter Kellie Hart, May 25, is one of them. Also celebrating this month is Barbara Cash. Barbara has been quite ill but hear she's improving. My sister Evelyn Dunn, Debbie Poland, Tommy Poland and Paula Smith are a few more. Happy birthday to you all! Rick and Karen Wing celebrate their wedding anniversary on May 25.

Leatrice Record is a patient at Stephens Memorial Hospital. She's been quite ill. I wish her a speedy recovery.

Kellie Hart is starting her summer college courses through the University of Maine.

Larry Billings, curator, Woodstock Historical Society reports that he has given a booklet about the author Charles Dickens to the society. John Tibbetts spoke on the D.A.R.E. program at the last meeting. Rebecca Ricker gave a photo album to the society. The society wants to remind you that it collects relics of the past and promotes better understanding of our heritage. We can learn lessons that may help us today and tomorrow.

Quote of the week: "I've learned that whenever I'm in a big hurry, the person in front of me isn't."

Upton

By ARLINE BERNIER

Upton school board met May 17 at the Town Office with three members and guests present. After the usual business of accepting minutes and approving warrants, the superintendent, Mr. Jenkins, opened the one bid for transportation, which was from Robert Dapalito for $34,200. Mr. Powell added this to other school expenses, which have increased due to increased enrollment, and announced a figure of $77,597. After much discussion, the board voted to accept that budget, which one selectman present remarked was more than the total sum which the town operated with last year and would likely double taxes. The board rejected the bid and discussed alternatives, such as purchasing a bus. Mr. Dapalito offered to reduce the amount the second and third years if he could have a three-year contract. The board reviewed some of the uncertainties making a three-year contract risky. The two selectmen present and the school board agreed on June 2nd as a date for a special town meeting to present the school budget.

I observed my anniversary by visiting Roland in the nursing home and a mini-party with friends and fellow writers in Bethel.

For those who know Mabel Andrews, she will be 95 years old on June 12. Cards would please her, especially if they refer to Red Sox or baseball. Her address is 44 Hunnewell, Pittsfield 04967.

Mr. Bear gave Jerry a rough night when he insisted on being on the porch of the Trading Post and rummaging through everything. A gunshot over his head stopped his progress very briefly.

Logging contractors are about looking for wood lots.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Swan of Rumford visited Mr. and Mrs. Charlie Smith on May 17.

Emma Ordway of Sebago visited Mr. and Mrs. Charlie Smith on May 14.

Mr. and Mrs. George Bethel picked up their son George at the University of Rhode Island. He will be home for the summer and working in the area.

Danielle Bernier is in Columbia, Mo., for softball nationals. She is a member of the Lady Monks at St. Joseph's College. She will work in the Norway area after the nationals.

Millie Jackson had her tonsils removed on May 11.

Leslie Krichko and daughter Kori of Richfield, Conn., visited Florence Hastings on May 15.

Virginia Gamble of Hanover, N.H., visited Florence Hastings recently.

Reggie Andrews returned home on May 16.

Liz Smith of Phippsburg and Mr. and Mrs. David McKee of Lowell, Mass., visited at the Bartlett Homestead on May 18.

Lendall Nevens of Carmel, N.Y., has been visiting his mother, Floribel Haines.

Floribel Haines suffered a small stroke on May 18. She is at Rumford Community Hospital.

Elderwood Manor

By FLORENCE HALL

Florence Hall and Julie and Norman White attended the graveside services for Alma Hewey, a former tenant at the Manor.

Callers at Florence Hall's to help celebrate her birthday were Louis and Judy Hall of Roxbury, Keith and Frances Hall of Frankport, Stacy Thompson and son Joel of Rumford, Carl and Cam Harrigan of Dixfield.

Gertrude Hutchins came home to her son's from the hospital after successful surgery in Portland.

Barbara Kaulback and Dorothy Lang visited Florence on Monday.

Gardens for flowers are being prepared at the Manor.

Thanks to everyone for the cards, calls and gifts to Florence.

Thought of the day: Two old-timers were complaining about the state of today's economy. "It's all the government's fault," said one. "To them a dollar is just a buck and they're either passing it or spending it."

High Street

West Paris

By RUSSELL YATES

Good morning, folks. Well, another Monday morning has rolled around and since it's cloudy and wet outside I'll try to type up my news of the past week.

Last Monday was a nice day and we both made the most of it. Peggy went to do her card work at LaVerdiere's. She doesn't know yet what is to happen when Rite Ade takes over LaVerdiere's, as she doesn't think that they carry the same kind of cards that LaVerdiere's has been carrying, so her work there might end.

I worked outside a lot on Monday and accomplished quite a lot. I straightened up the supports to my oil tank to start with. They were getting to look like the Leaning Tower of Pisa, and I was afraid that they might let go completely.

I had to have phone service in cold weather that demanded that a new wire be run on top of the ground. Lawn mowers and wires running on top of the ground sometimes tangle, so I dug a trench and buried the wire.

Last Sunday was the final day of Sunday School at the Mission Congregational Church.

Last Saturday, the Lovejoys, also Impi and Raymond Mack, went to Dover South Mills to the cemeteries. They visited Mr. and Mrs. Frank Turner in Palmyra.

They were busy at Lovejoys' yesterday, setting out new strawberry plants, trimming and fertilizing raspberries, also digging some plants to go to the West Paris School to be sold.

Impi Mack is having eye surgery today at CMMC hospital in Lewiston.

Three of the children at Lovejoys have perfect attendance records at school.

Veino Heikkinen and sister called at Raymond Mack's recently but found them not at home.

There will be a dance at Locke Mills Town Hall on May 28, with the Richard Felt Orchestra furnishing the music from 8 p.m. until midnight.

A Musical Supper, hosted by Franklin Grange of Bryant Pond, will be served at the American Legion Hall in Locke Mills on Tuesday, July 19, starting at 5:30 p.m. A $5 supper ticket ($2.50 for children under 12) will entitle you to a bountiful supper, a variety show, and dancing after the show.

Golf tip of the week --

Tips on pitching: Swing, don't scoop. Never attempt to scoop the club under the ball in an attempt to gain extra lift. Allow the loft (angle of the club face) to take care of the lift as it passes through the ball. The golf tip of the week is provided by the staff of the Bethel Inn and Country Club.

THOUGHTS FROM THE Pastor's Study

The Bethel Area Clergy Association, with the help of pastors of surrounding churches, brings you these meditations. Not based on any set theme, they will be individual for each pastor. It is hoped you will find in these words comfort and hope for your daily life.

In this season of graduations and commencements, we think of milestones passed, chapters closed and opened, changes in our life.

Jesus' disciples went through at least two changes. The first came when he called them to follow him. They left fishing boats, counting-houses or whatever their work was, to become—well, "students" really.

They heard life-changing teachings, saw life-renewing healings, and basically just watched the Master. Except when Jesus sent them out on a practice run to spread the good news of the Kingdom's coming among the villages, they were pretty much in the "soak-it-up" stage.

They didn't understand all they saw. Like others in their time, they looked for their teacher to lead a revolution that would finally throw out the Army of Occupation and re-establish the Kingdom of Israel.

But the powers-that-be arrested Jesus, tortured and executed him. Thus the first stage ended in tragedy and despair, fear and sorrow.

As the disciples continued to meet secretly, for mutual support and out of loyalty to their dead Master's last wishes, suddenly Jesus appeared to them fully alive. He was life-changing evidence of the power and trustworthiness of God. Stage Two had begun.

Astounded, filled with awe and joy, courage and love, they began to do what Jesus had done. They healed people, ministered to the oppressed, and proclaimed the good news that the Realm of God had indeed begun.

The movement grew by leaps and bounds. Among its members distinctions by power, money and sex that dominated the rest of the world disappeared: women were the equal of men, former masters served former slaves, resources were shared.

Many in the new movement were killed by world powers which could not stand being disobeyed, but its truth and love attracted many others. With some accommodation to the world's ways, people whose lives Jesus has changed still witness to the sovereignty of God as they live by Christ's Spirit.

So the questions to ponder at this time of graduations are: What changes has Jesus made in our life? Are we in Stage Two or even Stage One yet? Are we open to the Spirit that gives courage and hope, faith and love for living the Realm of God?

Augusta Roll Call Report

By STEVEN STYCOS

Each month while the Maine legislature is in session, the Augusta Roll Call Report will detail the key votes of our area's legislators during the previous month.

The Roll Call Report is intended to help voters decide whether how well their elected representatives are representing the people who elected them. The Citizen urges its readers to clip and save these reports and refer to them later this year when candidates for state representative and state senator are seeking votes.

The Roll Call Report is researched and written by investigative reporter Steven Stycos using official House of Representatives and Senate documents.

The Maine legislature finished its annual session last month, adjourning immediately after passing a $20-million rebate for the paper industry and a $15-million supplemental budget.

In April the legislature also killed a proposal to allow casino gambling in Calais and approved B bond issues, totaling $87.3 million. The bond issues will appear on the November election ballot, along with a citizen-initiated proposal to limit the number of terms Maine Congressmen may serve.

As this month's roll call report reflects, the state Senate made many important decisions without recorded votes. While the House took roll call votes to kill the Calais casino plan and Congressional term limits, the Senate made the same decisions without roll call votes. The Senate also voted to reinstate the Maine Health Program without a roll call vote.

Below are this month's important roll call votes.

Senate

1994 Attendance: There were 155 roll call votes in the Senate in 1994. Listed is the percentage of roll call votes for which each senator was present. Senators who paired their votes, or were excused for absences (a rare event), have been counted as present.

Kill Bill to Shrink Legislature: 4/6/94 vote to kill LD 1933, sponsored by Rep. Sumner Lipman (R-Augusta), to reduce the size of the House of Representatives from 151 members to 99, and the Senate from 35 members to 33. If passed, the amendment would have been placed on the November ballot for voter approval. Supporters said a smaller legislature would be cheaper and more efficient. Opponents said larger legislative districts would increase the cost of running for office and decrease contact between citizens and their representatives. The motion to kill the bill passed 16-14. A "yes" vote is a vote to kill the bill.

Kill Money Transfer from Legislature to Schools: 4/12/94 vote to kill an amendment to the state budget, sponsored by Sen. Dana Hanley (R-Oxford), to transfer $1.5 million from the legislature's operating budget to local school aid. Although a surplus is projected for legislative accounts, opponents said the money should not be transferred in the event a special session is called or other unforeseen expense is incurred. The motion passed 20-14. A "yes" vote is a vote to kill Hanley's amendment.

Guarantee Public Employee Pensions: 4/12/94 vote on LD 1822, sponsored by Sen. Bonnie Titcomb (D-Cumberland), to place a constitutional amendment guaranteeing teacher and state employee pension benefits on the November ballot. Proponents said the change would prevent the legislature from raiding the pension fund to balance the state budget. Opponents said the legislature should retain the right to adjust pension benefits. Because a two-thirds vote is required to amend the constitution, the bill was defeated by one vote, 23-22. A "yes" vote is a vote for the bill.

60/40 School Aid Formula: 4/12/94 vote on LD 924, sponsored by the Education Committee, to alter the school funding formula. State aid to individual school districts changes every year due to a formula based on student enrollment and local property values. The bill tempered this year's changes by limiting school districts scheduled to receive more aid, to 60 percent of their anticipated gain, and limiting districts scheduled to lose aid to 40 percent of their anticipated loss. Opponents favored an alternative proposal to follow the formula, but cap the amount of state aid a district can lose at 2.3 percent of its operating budget. The bill passed 19-16.

Paper Company Subsidy: 4/23/94 vote on LD 1993, sponsored by Rep. James Coles (D-Harpwell) to give paper companies a rebate equal to three percent of the cost of new equipment required by federal environmental laws. The bill provides a maximum of $20 million in rebates over the next four years and allows companies to negotiate property tax breaks with local governments. Proponents said the bill was necessary to keep paper plants in Maine, but opponents characterized it as a tax giveaway. The bill passed 31-3.

House

1994 Attendance: There were 138 roll call votes in the House in 1994. Listed is the percentage of roll call votes for which each representative was present. Representatives who paired their votes, or were excused for absences (a rare event), have been counted as present.

Kill Bill to Shrink Legislature: 4/6/94 vote to kill LD 1933, sponsored by Rep. Sumner Lipman (R-Augusta) to reduce the size of the Maine legislature. The bill, which if passed would have been placed on the November ballot for voter approval, would reduce the size of the House from 151 members to 99, and the Senate from 35 members to 33. Supporters said a smaller legislature would be cheaper and more efficient. Opponents said larger legislative districts would increase the cost of running for office and decrease contact between citizens and their representatives. The motion to kill the bill passed 97-45. A "yes" vote is a vote to kill the bill.

Increase Water Pollution and Hazardous Waste Bond: 4/6/94 vote on an amendment to LD 1890, sponsored by Rep. John Martin (D-Eagle Lake), to increase a water quality bond issue from $9 million to $15.3 million. The amendment added money for pollution control improvements in Rangeley and more than doubled the funds to clean up more than 30 hazardous substance sites Martin said had been identified by the Department of Environmental Protection. Opponents said the House should support the $9 million figure approved by the appropriations committee, and that voters might reject the higher figure. The amendment passed 77-65. (The $9 million figure will appear in the ballot due to Senate opposition to the amendment.)

Congressional Term Limits: 4/6/94 vote on LD 1983, initiated by a citizen petition, to limit terms of Maine's representatives to Congress. Starting in 1995, a bill limits representatives to serving six years in an 11-year period and senators to 12 years in a 17-year period. Supporters said term limits are necessary to guarantee that congress stays in touch with the people. Opponents said voters should be able to elect whoever they choose and that term limits will prevent Maine's representatives from becoming influential in Congress. The bill was defeated 44-98, but will be on the November ballot.

Calais Casino: 4/7/94 vote on LD 1998, sponsored by the Judiciary Committee, to allow the Passamaquoddy tribe to open a gambling casino in Calais. Supporters said a casino would spur economic development and was permitted under federal law governing Native Americans. Opponents said gambling should not be encouraged. The bill was defeated 50-96.

Guarantee Public Employee Pensions: 4/7/94 vote on LD 1822, sponsored by Sen. Bonnie Titcomb (D-Cumberland), to present to voters a constitutional amendment guaranteeing teacher and state employee pension benefits. Proponents said the change would prevent the legislature from raiding the pension fund to balance the state budget. Opponents said the legislature should retain the right to adjust pension benefits. The bill passed 107-33.

Kill Tax Bill for Health Care and Education: 4/11/94 vote on an amendment to the budget, sponsored by Rep. James Bowers (D-Washington), to increase the tax on hotel rooms from seven to 10 percent to raise $7.4 million to reinstate the Maine Health Program which provides health care for low-income workers) and increase aid to local schools. Opponents said the tax increase would hurt tourism. Afterwards, Bowers said his amendment was in part designed to make Rep. Rydell's amendment, scheduled for a vote later that day (see next roll call), more appealing to legislators. The motion to kill the amendment passed 115-20. A "yes" vote is a vote to kill the amendment.

Shift Money to Health Care and Education: 4/11/94 vote on an amendment to the budget, sponsored by Rep. Charlene Rydell (D-Brunswick), to shift $5.1 million from job training programs and a state reserve fund to local school aid and the Maine Health Program. Supporters said the shift would produce $3.8 million in federal matching funds, reinstate the Maine Health Program (which provides health care for low-income workers) and help school districts scheduled to lose state aid. Opponents said the supplemental budget, a compromise forged by appropriations committee which included Governor McKernan's economic development plans, should not be altered. The amendment passed 85-50.

Health Care for Low-income Workers: 4/13/94 vote on LD 2012, sponsored by Sen. Dennis Dutremble (D-York) to spend $1.4 million to reinstate the Maine Health Program for one year. Proponents lauded the program, which provides health care to low-income workers, while opponents, led by Governor McKernan, said it was not a priority. The bill passed 104-24.

Kill Amendment Tying Paper Company Subsidy to Jobs: 4/13/94 vote to kill an amendment, sponsored by Rep. Edward Pineau (D-Jay), to the paper industry subsidy bill (see next vote). The amendment would force a paper company to repay its subsidy for the previous two years if more than 50 percent of a company's workers were replaced in a strike, or laid off. Pineau said the amendment would guarantee that state money not given to companies which put large numbers of people out of work, but opponents said the amendment did not belong in the bill, and would unfairly penalize companies who had to lay off workers. The motion passed 85-48. A "yes" vote is a vote to kill the amendment.

Paper Company Subsidy: 4/13/95 vote on LD 1993, sponsored by Rep. James Coles (D-Harpwell) to give paper companies a rebate equal to three percent of the cost of new equipment required by federal environmental laws. The bill provides a maximum of $20 million in rebates over the next four years, and also allows companies to negotiate property tax breaks with local governments. Proponents said the bill is necessary to keep paper plants in Maine, but opponents characterized it as a tax giveaway. The bill passed 111-17.
